

The Better Care Everywhere Program Series

Our speakers

Conjoint Professor Anne Duggan is a Clinical Director at the Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care and Gastroenterologist in private practice and at John Hunter Hospital in Newcastle, NSW.

Dr Chris Hayes is a specialist pain medicine physician at John Hunter Hospital in Newcastle, NSW, and Director of Hunter Integrated Pain Service.

Dr Damien Zilm is a rural GP and practice co-owner in Meekatharra, Western Australia, holding fellowship with both FRACGP and FACRRM.

Dr Jennifer Stevens is an anaesthetist and pain specialist at the St Vincent's Hospital Campus in Sydney.

Dr Tejas (TJ) Kanhere is a Pain Registrar within the Faculty of Pain Medicine at St Vincent's Hospital in Sydney.

Adjunct Professor Cathy Balding is the Director of Qualityworks, a consultancy dedicated to making quality make sense in health, aged care and community services.

Cathy Jones is the National Director of Clinical Governance for Healthscope, moving to a position as the Chief Quality Officer for TLC Healthcare in February 2021.

Professor Erwin Loh is national Chief Medical Officer and Group General Manager Clinical Governance for St Vincent's Health Australia.

Nicole Rasmussen is Director, Patient Safety and Quality Improvement at Alfred Health, Victoria, with a background in occupational therapy.

Professor Dominique Cadilhac is the Head of the Translational Public Health and Evaluation Research Division, Stroke and Ageing Research, at Monash University in Victoria.

Nicola (Nikki) Hall is the Stroke Clinical Nurse Consultant at Logan Hospital, Queensland, and the Hospital Coordinator for the Australian Stroke Clinical Registry.

Professor Jacqueline Close is a Geriatrician at the Prince of Wales Hospital, Sydney, and Clinical Director of the Falls, Balance and Injury Research Centre at Neuroscience Research Australia.