

Clinician quiz

World AMR Awareness Week 2025

Question	T / F
1. The World AMR Awareness Week theme for 2025 is “Act Now: Protect Our Present, Secure Our Future.”	T / F
2. Contamination from unused antimicrobials disposed in toilets, bins or waste dumps contribute to the development of antimicrobial resistance.	T / F
3. By 2050, it is projected that 191,000 deaths will occur annually, attributed to antimicrobial resistance.	T / F
4. Trimethoprim is the first-line antibiotic for the treatment of uncomplicated cystitis.	T / F
5. Area under the curve monitoring should be prioritised for critically ill patients on vancomycin.	T / F
6. Lean body weight should be used to calculate aminoglycoside doses.	T / F
7. In 2024, less than a quarter of Australians had at least one antimicrobial dispensed in the community.	T / F
8. The health system does not contribute to greenhouse gas emissions.	T / F
9. Reviewing antimicrobial therapy at 48 to 72 hours is good practice.	T / F
10. In 2024, Carbapenemase-producing Enterobacterales were the most reported critical antimicrobial resistance reported in Australia.	T / F

For more information

Please visit: safetyandquality.gov.au/AMS

© Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care 2025